DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species 4 in the reply filed on 6/22/06 is acknowledged.

Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The inconsistency between the language in the preamble "an apparatus" and certain portions of the body of the claim such as "a component(s) and a substrate" (lines 27-33) renders the scope of the claim vague and indefinite because it is unclear if the intent is to claim either the subcombination of the "an apparatus" alone or the combination of the "an apparatus" and "a component and a substrate". The applicant is asked to please clarify what subject matter the claim is intended to be drawn to, i.e., the subcombination alone or the combination, where the language of the claim is to be amended to be consistent with this intent. The reader understands that the applicants intended to claim the subcombination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 1-2 and 4-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hirano et al (US 6,708,402).

Hirano discloses in Figs. 1-3 and 5-7, col. 7, lines 28-67 and col. 8, lines 1-30 an apparatus with a controller as shown in Fig. 7; H x (q-r) is a reference area and this is generated for each component mounted on the substrate prior and subsequent to the components to be mounted thereon in order to check for interferences; q x H is a portion of the holder falls outside the reference area and the controller is capable of determining that the holder would make an interference with another component. It is inherent that when the mounting action is stopped, the component is corrected, adjusted or removed from the nozzle.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3729

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hirano et al (US 6,708,402) in view of Kent et al (US 6,240,633).

Hirano fails to disclose an image processor and a controller for a second camera.

Ken discloses an image processor (112) and a controller (128).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Hirano by an image processor and a controller for a second camera, as taught by Ken, for the purpose of finding misplaced components on a substrate.

Conclusion

9. Please provide reference numerals (either in parentheses next to the claimed limitation or in a table format with one column listing the claimed limitation and another column listing corresponding reference numerals in the remark section of the response to the Office Action) to all the claimed limitations as well as support in the disclosure for better clarity (optional). Applicants are duly reminded that a full and proper response to this Office Action that includes any amendment to the claims and specification of the application as originally filed requires that the applicant point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including the claims. See 37 CFR 1.111 and MPEP 2163.06.
